

WYOMING PROGRAM IMPACTS

State Energy Efficient Appliance Rebate Program

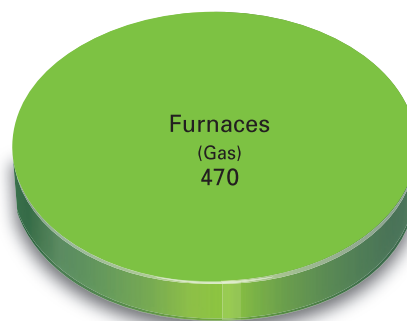

The State of Wyoming conducted a 9-month mail-in rebate program to help residents replace older, inefficient appliances with new, ENERGY STAR® qualified models. Wyoming residents received 4,525 rebates, representing total annual energy savings to the state of nearly 9 billion Btu. This is enough energy to power the major appliances in about 860 homes each year.

"The Wyoming program brought a good deal of attention to the benefits that ENERGY STAR appliances provide. Residents benefited from the financial incentive, retailers saw increased sales, and utilities will benefit from reduced energy consumption."

WYOMING AT A GLANCE

- Appliances in four product categories received rebates ranging from $50 to $250. Clothes washers were the most popular product.
- The energy savings from these new appliances is estimated to reduce annual CO₂-equivalent emissions by more than 1.7 million pounds.
- Wyoming received $510,985 from the federal government to implement the program; 90 percent of this funding went directly to rebates.
- Federal funds covered $51,035 of administrative costs; retailers also provided $63,318 of in-kind support.

REBATE DISTRIBUTION BY ZIP CODE

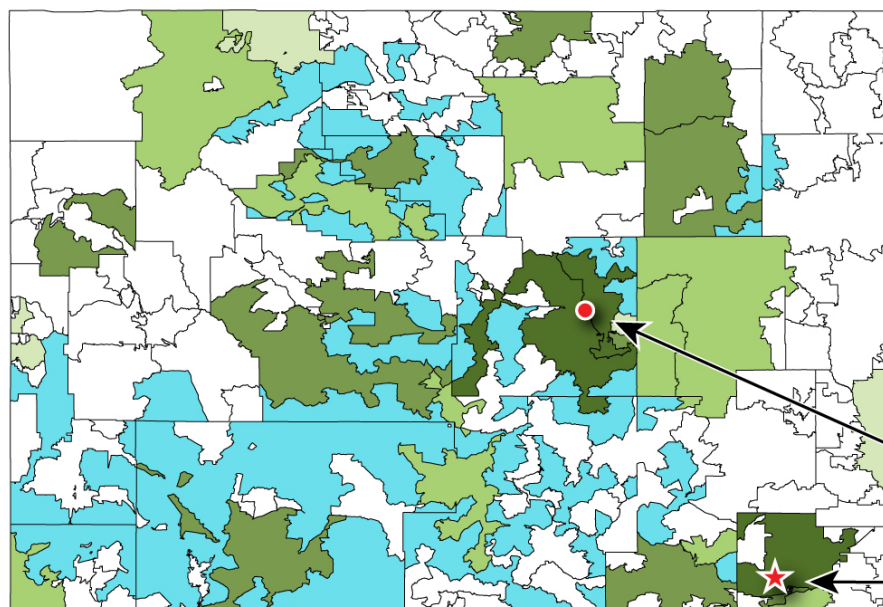

The State Energy Efficient Appliance Rebate Program, part of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA), provided almost $300 million in funding to all 56 U.S. states and territories to support consumer rebate programs for efficient appliances. This funding helped consumers replace their existing appliances with ENERGY STAR qualified products. In Wyoming alone, the program is projected to save consumers over $227,000 on their annual energy and water bills.

- April 15, 2010: Program launches with rebates on ENERGY STAR qualified clothes washers; dishwashers; gas furnaces; and gas tankless, electric heat pump, and solar water heaters.
